EASITEX® - Imagery Incentive Scheme

EASITEX is a new and innovative Tension Fabric System that does not require any silicone sewn to your prints. The system is making a difference for companies and the environment around the world. We want to see your projects and share them with others, so in exchange for content you could receive extra discounts on your future orders - Everyone's a winner! Here is how it works:

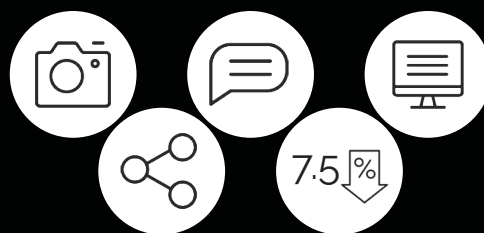

Receive a 2.5% discount off your next order by sending us images that can be used on social media posts and promotional emails. Your company will be mentioned.

Receive a 5% discount off your next order by sending us images and testimonial that can be used on social media posts and promotional emails. Your company will be mentioned.

Receive a 5% discount off your next order by sending us images that can be used on social media posts and promotional emails. Your company will not be mentioned.

Receive a 7.5% discount off your next order by sending us images and a testimonial that can be used on social media posts and promotional emails. Your company will be mentioned. On top of this, permission to use the imagery on our websites without captioning your company.

Receive a 5% discount off your current order by allowing a case-study to be made about your project. To qualify, your project must be out of the ordinary in some way, either in scale or creativity. Once approved, allow us access to site to take images and create a case-study to be posted and shared online. Your company and project will be mentioned.

Please note that your imagery must be approved prior to discounts being applied. SignComp Europe reserve the right to refuse offering a discount if the imagery isn't of good enough quality to share with our database. Please also note that the maximum possible discount applied to an order is 30% so, if the sum of your quantity-based discount and imagery incentive scheme discount equate to more than 30%, then your discount will be capped.
